CHILD PROTECTION AND CREATING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS

AL-GENERATED EXPLICIT IMAGES.

With the rising use of AI, explicit nonconsensual images can be generated easily and without the victim's knowledge. An offender may not even need an explicit image to work from. When threatened with explicit AI-generated images being published or distributed online, victims often succumb to demands for money, in-person meetings or worse. This can affect anyone, regardless of age or gender – but children are most at risk. The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children provides a free service called, "Take It Down," that can help one remove or stop the online sharing of nude, partially nude, or sexually explicit images or videos of minors. For information visit <https://takeitdown.ncmec.org/>. For additional resources visit www.eriercd.org/childprotection/.

BISHOP PERSICO'S PRAYER FOR THE SELECTION OF THE NEW BISHOP FOR THE DIOCESE OF ERIE

O Almighty God,
Pour forth the Holy Spirit upon the Holy Father and those who assist him in the discernment of our new bishop.
May the one chosen have the strength to be a compassionate leader,
who models humility and joy.
Grant him the wisdom of Solomon,
the courage of the apostles,
and the tenderness of your Son, the Good Shepherd.

We also pray for the Diocese of Erie that he is called to serve.
May we welcome him with open hearts
and work with him in a spirit of synodality,
called to listen, collaborate, and build unity.

Through the intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of the Church, St. Joseph, the protector of the Church, and St. Patrick, the patron of our diocese, may we journey the path of life with an unwavering focus on the hope we have in Christ.

For he lives and reigns forever and ever.
Amen.

Imprimature, October 28, 2025
The Most Reverend Lawrence T. Persico, J.C.L.
Bishop of Erie

My Dear Brothers and Sisters,

As William Shakespeares Merchant of Venice draws to a close, Portia and Lorenzo, her bridegroom, travel at night to their home. Nearing home, they hear sweet music carried softly on the nighttime breeze and Portia sees a distant light burning in the window of their home. She exclaims, How far that little candle throws his beams So shines a good deed in a naughty world(Act 5, Scene 1, lines 90-91).

Good deeds shine brightly like diamonds and lift the human heart in this world -- a world both naughty and charged with the grandeur of God. The quality of merciful deeds done as the work of our hands can remind us of the quality of Gods own tender mercies toward us. The Prophet Isaiah attests to the bright lightness of this mercy:

*Thus says the Lord:
Share your bread with the hungry,
shelter the oppressed and homeless;
Clothe the naked when you see them,
and do not turn your back on your own.
Then your light shall break forth like the dawn.*

Encouraging us to put the words of scripture into action, the Gospel of Matthew amplifies Isaiah's urgent call to serve the weakest members of the family of God. Acting for the good of others. In the Sermon on the Mount and in Chapter 25 of the Gospel of Matthew, the evangelist urges followers of The Way to act promptly. Feeding the hungry and slaking peoples thirst. Visiting the sick and imprisoned. Truly welcoming the stranger and the alien, and sharing clothing with those in need. All these deeds done for the weakest around us are what shine a great distance and greet Gods eye.

Show your love in deeds not just in words advises St. Ignatius of Loyola, founder of the Jesuits. For the Gospel of Matthew and for St. Ignatius, our identity as believers is all wrapped up in Christian service given for the good of others. For Matthew it is an urgent doing, an urgent action. Matthews imperative invites us to recognize how we are already serving the neediest among us. For the Holy Spirit is already powerfully active in the Church inspiring us to serve the neediest and to invite all to deeper faith. Somehow in the doing God draws near. Somehow in the doing mercy shines forth to lift the spirits of all people. The gospel passage closes with the evangelist's words saying that they set a light on a stand where it gives light to all in the house. In the same way, your light must shine before all people so that they may see goodness in your acts and give praise to God.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. Tom
